ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE
THE QUEEN OF ENGLAND.

Another madman, or monster without the excuse of madness has attempted the assassination of the beloved Sovereign of the British Empire. At six o'clock on Monday evening, as her Majesty, accompanied by Prince Albert, was returning to the Palace in an open barouche, with outriders, an assassin presented a pistol, and discharged it at the Queen, from very nearly the same spot on Constitution Hill from which Oxford fired. The wretch was instantly seized by a soldier of the Scotch Fusilier Guard. He was at first supposed to be a foreigner, but it appears, that he is an Englishman, named John Francis, son to a scene-shifter at one of the theatres. He is about 20 years of age.

The subscriptions in London, Paris and indeed all over Europe, in behalf of the sufferers by the great fire at Hamburg, have been on most liberal and unprecedented scale, notwithstanding the commercial depression which prevails so extensively everywhere.

Many more arrests have been made at Paris, of persons supposed to be implicated in the late attempts upon the life of the King.

THE CATASTROPHE AT HAMBURGH.

We have the following statistical details of the destruction of property by the late calamitous fire.—Streets destroyed, 61; lanes ditto, 120; houses ditto in streets, 1922; small houses in lanes, 498; cellars, 468; inhabitants dispossessed, 21,526. Churches destroyed, 3, viz. St. Peter, St. Nicolas, and St. Gertrude. The value of the private buildings is estimated at 47 million marks banco, in the mutual insurance effected by the municipalities, and the public buildings at 10 millions, making together 57 millions, equal to £3,363,000. The furniture and goods are estimated at £2,963,000; making the total value of the property £6,346,000. The amount insured in the foreign insurance companies on furniture and goods, is estimated at 10 million marks banco, or £741,000; but we are informed, on very good authority, that this item is so overrated, that it throws a doubt upon the accuracy of the statement of the aggregate loss sustained. We are credibly informed that the total amount of the liabilities of the English insurance companies will not exceed, at the very utmost, £450,000; and according to the most recent accounts, £420,000 is held as nearer to the truth. It is further rendered perfectly certain that even the latter account will be very materially reduced; for, as the researches in the ruins proceeded, considerable amounts of property were rescued daily, which was constantly increasing the salvage to the English companies.

LATEST FROM THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC—A GREAT BATTLE.

We have received the British Packet, published at Buenos Ayres, to the 30th of April.

(From the British Packet, 30, April.)

Colonel Marrano Maza arrived in town on Tuesday last, bringing the official account of the complete defeat of the forces of Lopez of Santa Fe, on the 20th at San Pedro, about nine leagues to the north of the capital of that Province, on the borders of Chaco. It appears that Lopez was drawn into the action by a stratagem of General Oribe, and discovered his error when too late to avoid the encounter. The results of the affair are stated to be 200 killed and 250 prisoners. There was also captured 15,000 horses, 30,000 head of cattle, 4 pieces of artillery, baggage &c. Of the 2000 men carried into action by Lopez, some 1200 to 1300 almost at the first charge passed over to the ranks of the Federal army—Lopez himself, accompanied by two adjutants, had effected his escape to an island in the Parana.

It appears that a partial affair had taken place on the 16th, four days previous to the principle action, at the Barrancas, near Coronda—which obliged Lopez to fall back on Santa Fe.

We understand that the headquarters of the army of the Confederation were at Coronda. It consists of more than 10,000 effective men of the three armies, under the orders of Generals Oribe, Pacheco, and Exchague—a small body under Colonel Santa Coloma had occupied the city of Santa Fe.
